

As an artist, I believe my work is about self-expression, I have always found art to be an outlet for my emotions. I am really interested in creating art that express how I feel and what my state of mind is. I want to use color, line and shape to express myself. I always believe that arts are able to convey the culture impact on lines of individuals by exploring their reactions to the events large and small around them. Real issues that everyday person faces in society. My work of arts are meanly traditional, but I always like to try something new. I love to see that my ideas of work perform on different medium. My art works are pretty obvious, I like to have my works to speak itself instead of me to explain. As a Chinese, I like to have my work include my culture, I always think art is the way to let others know who you are even you speak another language. What I hope to accomplish is my work can help me to communicate with other and can expressing the messages that are needed.
